MANAGEMENT OFFICE'S ADVICES

* Report Issues Early: Residents should promptly report maintenance problems (e.g, plumbing, electrical, HVAC issues) to the property management team. Early intervention can prevent small problems from becoming expensive repairs.

* Routine Inspections: Residents should allow regular inspections or preventative maintenance checks (e.g, HVAC servicing, fire alarm testing) to ensure everything is in good condition.

* Know Your Emergency Contacts: The PMC provide clear instructions on whom to contact in case of emergencies (e.g, after-hours repairs, fire, or water leaks).

STRATA TITLE AND PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

- For buildings developed under the condominium model, developers are required to establish a strata title that allows owners to individually own units and jointly share ownership of common areas such as hallways, elevators, and parking spaces.

- Strata management: This includes managing common areas, setting maintenance fees, ensuring building safety, and resolving disputes between owners.

- Regular general assemblies are held to make decisions on shared costs and maintenance.

TAX LAWS & PROERTY TAXES

The Taxation Law governs property-related taxes in Cambodia. Key taxes related to property management include:

- Property tax: Owners must pay an annual property tax based on the value of their real estate. The rate is typically around 0.1% to 0.2% of the market value of the property.

Tips When Looking For Condo Investment in Cambodia

Over the years, the appeal of investing in condominiums has emerged as a popular way to generate income and grow wealth. Condominiums are investments with the advantages of property ownership without the complexities of managing a standalone house.

However, what is the best strategy when it comes to condo investment? An Off-plan development or a completed project? Capital appreciation or returns? In this article, Realestate.com.kh will share a guide on how to maximize your returns when considering buying a condo for investment.

Market Trends

Real estate is a market where demand fluctuates depending on its dynamics. When a high number of buyers are in the market seeking property to live or invest in, the price tends to rise and be more competitive.

Target Audience

Condominiums include a diverse range of unit types, with studios and one-bedroom units often appealing to single occupants or professionals, while larger families tend to favor two-bedroom units up to penthouses for greater space.

Location Matters

Regardless of which country you are living in, there exist some areas with preferences when it comes to living. Therefore, choosing the right location is the number one priority when considering a condo investment.

In Phnom Penh, BKK, Tonle Bassac, Dauh Penh, Chamkarmon, Sen Sok, and Toul Kork are popular, highly sought locations as they have established themselves as vibrant hubs with excellent connectivity, modern amenities, and a diverse range of dining, entertainment, and shopping options.
